IdMlogic Signs a Strategic Partnering Agreement with Leading Identity Theft Prevention Provider StrikeForce Technologies

Edison, NJ, May 28th, 2008 – StrikeForce Technologies, a leader in solutions that help prevent registration fraud, identity theft and data theft, today announced its partnership with IdMlogic, a privately held full service provider of Security and Identity & Access Management solutions, specializing in delivering strong authentication solutions for the B2C, B2E and B2B markets.

IdMlogic is very excited to be able to work with the StrikeForce extensive ProtectID™ platform that provides One Time Password and Out-of-Band authentication methods in this important security market segment, as well as StrikeForce's GuardedID® product that encrypts the keystrokes and prevents keyloggers from stealing one's identity.

"Our partnership with StrikeForce broadens our ability to deliver identification and strong authentication solutions to our clients," according to Iris Sharoni, IdMlogic President. "We are now able to offer a wider set of authentication methods as we operationalize and automate the processes around credentials management and the user experience."

"StrikeForce is very positive about our partnership with IdMlogic. They truly are visionaries when it comes to delivering Identity Management solutions," says Mark L. Kay, CEO of StrikeForce.
